30 calm days to your entrance exam.

calm and ready

WELCOME

Calm beats cramming

Entrance exams aren't won the night before — they're won by a steady plan and a little progress each day. This guide is that plan: clear steps, gentle pace, no panic.

one problem at a time

PROMISE

Follow the rhythm, trust the method, and walk in calm. When a problem won't budge — ask MathIA.

The plan

Steady wins. Here is your map.

THE SHAPE OF IT

How the 30 days work

Three gentle phases — no all-nighters required.

DAYS 1–10

Foundations

Refresh the basics and fill the gaps you keep tripping on.

DAYS 11–22

Practice

Solve by topic, every day. Build speed and confidence.

DAYS 23–30

Simulations

Full mock papers under time.
Calm, timed, repeated.

RULE

A little every day beats a lot once. Short, daily, consistent.

THE METHOD

The 7-step method

The same seven steps work for every problem you'll meet.

- 1 Read — read the whole problem, slowly, twice.
- 2 Find the ask — write down exactly what's being asked.
- 3 Plan — choose the approach before you compute.
- 4 Solve — work step by step — no skipped lines.
- 5 Check — does the answer make sense? units, sign, size.
- 6 Note the slip — write the mistake so it never repeats.
- 7 Repeat — one more, similar — until it feels easy.

Read everything first. Start with what you know. One problem at a time.

STEADY MIND

Calm in 3 breaths

Panic shrinks when the plan is clear.

When nerves rise, stop and breathe: in for four, hold for four, out for four. Three rounds. Then read the next line — only the next line.

calm hands, clear head

REMEMBER

You don't need every answer at once. You need the next step. Then the next.

LOOK BACK

Reflection

Progress shows when you look back.

What went well this week?

Which topic still needs work?

One thing I'll do differently?

When you're stuck
